School Board To Consider Tax Merger

Although there has been no official discussion of a proposed move that would merge the city and school tax offices by the Canyon Independent School Board, it will be on the agenda of the next school board meeting July 26, said Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools.

The move, discussed at a recent special session of the Canyon City Commission, would combine the two tax departments under the jurisdiction of one assessor-collector.

City Manager Gary Gwyn is investigating the legality of the proposed consolidation. He said the merger would provide for greater efficiency and would actually aid the taxpayer as he would need to go to only one office to pay both sets of taxes.

It will be necessary, he said, to determine who would report to whom in the consolidation and if a private government consultant should be employed to look at both organizations and recommend how the office should be set up and when.

Gwyn told the commission that the present assessor-collector Burney Slack would no longer be able to fill the office for the city and that someone would need to be hired in the meantime until action on the merger could be taken. He suggested the city employee also talk with Laycock, as the new tax assessor-collector would possibly work with him should the consolidation materialize.

Foster Resigns Position

Lee Foster, who has been Canyon Independent School District tax assessor-collector eighteen years, has resigned, said Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools.

"He is to be highly commended by the administration, school board and community for the outstanding work he has done and the perfect set of records he has maintained throughout the years", Laycock stated.

His resignation will become effective when a replacement is found, Laycock said.

Foster, who took the tax office position in 1948, cited health as the reason for his decision.

Commission Has Meeting

Canyon City Commission met in regular session last evening at City Hall.

Listed on the agenda was the appointment of a tax equalization board, discussion of group insurance proposals, discussion of a speed zone ordinance and discussion of deed property to C.N. Cosby (14th St. ROW immediately south of Santa Fe tracks).

Equalization Board Hears 399 Taxpayers

A total of 399 taxpayers met with McMorries and Company recently to discuss their Canyon Independent School taxes, said Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools. He said 4,500 invitations had been sent the taxpayers inviting them to discuss their tax problems with the evaluation firm and the Equalization Board.

The tax re-evaluation program, he said, had been in the planning stage for about two years and was the most equitable way to increase the school's over-all property valuation.

Rickshaw Tourney Set At Buffalo

The annual Rickshaw tournament for boaters and skiers will be held this week end, July 16-17, at Buffalo Lake, west of Canyon.

Events of the tourney are sponsored by the Panhandle Boat and Ski Club. The public is invited to attend.

Whiskered Panhandler

SIDEWALK PANHANDLER, Carl Miller, has a flurry of shaving permits for sale from the Canyon Jaycees. The permits, which sell for $1, may save the "unwhiskered ones" from a dunk in the horseshoe next week as celebration time draws near for the annual Randall County Roundup and Old Settlers Reunion.

For Roundup-Reunion

Pitching Challenges Issued

Challenges for "horseshoe pitching" have been issued by several clubs of Canyon in the upcoming contest which will be held in connection with the annual Old Settlers Reunion and Randall County Roundup.

Sponsored by the Canyon Rotary Club, the horseshoe event will be held Friday evening, July 22, at 7 p.m., according to Joe Gidden, chairman. Members of the Jaycees, Lion's, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs have issued "fight-to-the-finish" challenges between clubs for the trophies which will be awarded to the first place and runner-up in individual and team competition.

"We are expecting to have a minimum of ten teams and ten individuals competing," says Gidden. Entry fee is $1 per man in both divisions of the contest. Trophies will be awarded the winners at 8:30 p.m., following the event.

Roundup events will get underway at 10 a.m. Friday with the annual Old Settlers Reunion, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce at the lounge of the Student Union Building at West Texas State University. The program, which will adjourn at 2 p.m., will include a noon luncheon by the Randall County Historical Survey Committee. "We don't have an accurate list of our old settlers," said Roland Black, Chamber secretary. Invitations have been issued to old timers and those not contacted who plan to attend the festivities should contact the Chamber of Commerce, so that an estimate may be made of those planning to attend.

A "free watermelon feast" will be held Friday evening between 6-7 p.m. on the courthouse lawn. The free feed is being sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and all residents, old timers and guests are invited to the feed according to Roland Black, chamber secretary.

The "horseshoe contest" will be held by the Rotary Club immediately after the watermelon feed. Concluding activities for Friday evening will be a "young people's dance" sponsored by the Canyon Kiwanis Club on the courthouse.

All-Stars Tourney At Plainview

Canyon's Babe Ruth All-Stars were still in the running for the district championship Wednesday evening when they were slated to play a Pampa team at 5 p.m. in Plainview.

Results of the game were not available at press time.

In their opening game Monday, the Canyon All-Stars lost a 4-1 bout with Dumas.

Tuesday afternoon, the local team outranked Olton with an 8-5 tally.

The district tournament, being held at Jaycee Stadium in Plainview, is a double elimination competition.

"We still have a good chance," says Max Bosley, all-stars coach.

Manson Lisle, second coach for the all-stars, added that the team is "trying its best for the championship".

On the all-star roster are Gayland Davis, Ronnie Minnier and David Carter from the Cardinals; Frank Williams and Johnnie Johnson of the Giants; Max Bosley III and Lynn Salmon of the Pirates; Wicky Culp, Stephen Vernon and Robert Lee of the Happy Yankees; Mike Hamrick and John Krill of Fanning; Jerry Lehnick and Keith Keeling of the White Sox. Alternates on the team are Tommie Tucker, Calvin Yarborough and Tommie Arington.

Newsman Tells Teachers China, USSR In Next War

University Is Scene Of 'Textbook' Meet

BY MARY ANN WALTER

"The next natural war will be between the Chinese and the Russians."

"In the next couple of years we will see an offer made to China." (In relation to U.N. membership). "I also feel they will turn it down."

"In the East and the West, there is a fear of a resurgent Germany—a return of the German general staff."

"The Russians are a little tired of Castro, but they are stuck with him."

In a speech to the "Living Textbook" Conference Monday United Press International Foreign News Analyst and columnist Phil Newsom touched on situations in many parts of the world.

Teachers from the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico heard Newsom at the evening session of the conference held in the East Dining Hall on the WTSU campus.

Newsom, a native of Nebraska and former night editor of newspapers in Chicago and New York, told the 85 conference members that "since April 10,000 VC have come down the Ho Chi Minh Trail."

Saturday's activities get underway at 10 a.m. with the opening of the bingo booth, sponsored by the Canyon Jaycees. The booth will remain open throughout the afternoon events and will offer prizes

Free Melon Feed

A free watermelon feed will be sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce in connection with the annual Randall County Roundup next week end.

The free watermelon will be served between 6 and 7 p.m. on the north side of the courthouse Friday evening, July 22, according to Roland Black, Chamber secretary.

The public is invited to participate. A truckload of watermelons will be brought from Lelia Lake for the occasion.

For Lazy Afternoons

NEED SOMETHING to do on a lazy afternoon? Check with the Seymour youngsters at 202 5th St. They spend their riding around in a donkey cart pulled by Jenny and Jack with sister Barbara, 14, at the reins. Getting the best build-up is about where the Communist want it...at a peak for one great, massive push. If they fail the tide will turn."

Stressing that Gen. William Westmoreland feels that he now has what he needs to stem this drive by the Viet Cong, Newsom went on to say that the United States has 270,000 troops in Viet Nam at this time. He indicated that this number will increase to 350,000 by early 1967.

"There are 30,000 Koreans and more coming, units from New Zealand and Australia and 700,000 South Vietnamese, who will take over police action."

According to Newsom, the South Vietnamese will be used in a program of pacification...described as "oil slicks." As one village is pacified, South Vietnamese will be left to police this area and the bulk of the troops will move on to the nearest village with the program of pacification. As this program spreads, it is hoped that the pacified villages or "slicks" will run together and the country will be covered in this manner.

In discussing the conflict between the Buddhists and the Catholics for government control, Newsom explained that the situation was basically social. "When the French were in control, during the colonial period, the Catholics got the best jobs, were higher in the social structure of the country. The Buddhists finally realized the strength in their numbers and

Museum Receives Estate

In a July 8 ruling in the 160th District Court in Dallas, Judge Hoyet A. Armstrong made the Panhandle-Plains Museum the recipient of the Frank Reaugh Estate. In accordance with this decision the museum will receive a sum totaling $28,938.13.

Judge Armstrong stated, "The Museum at Canyon has been notified that all pictures and Reaugh Estate assets in their possession as well as those on loan at Texas Tech, are now owned by the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum with-out restrictions or conditions."

All state records have been delivered to C. Boone McClure, director of the museum.

Included in the Estate were 455 pictures already located at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, plus 217 at

Equipment To Provide Expansion Of Services

New trash collection equipment and containers for Canyon business establishments will arrive in about a month, Henry Newkirk said Thursday.

Newkirk, a representative of LoDal Manufacturing Company of Kingsford, Mich., said the $36,465.28 equipment was being delayed as the company is having difficulty finding steel cord tires specified for the F950 truck.

The district sales manager said that 79 trash containers would be ready for shipment in about two weeks and would probably be two additional weeks in transit. The City Commission voted to purchase the equipment April 13.

The purchase includes the truck with conventional cab and chassis, a front end loader, with packing system, containers ranging in size from three to eight cubic yard capacity and transportation and unloading of the equipment. A factory trained representative will instruct city employees in use of the collection device.

According to Gary Gwyn, City Manager, the new equipment can carry about 70 yards of trash each day in one trip to the dumping grounds. At present each container must be carried, dumped and returned to its place before another can be unloaded. "And sometimes these are not full."

"With the new equipment, all the 70 yards of garbage, can be collected by the LoDal packer truck at one time...saving about 17 trips to the grounds each day."

"We hope, Gwyn said, to give better coverage to commercial establishments and to

County Agent's Column

Many years of irrigation research have led to the development of a number of basic principles farmers can use to decide the time and amount of water to apply to cotton and grain sorghum on the High Plains.

Irrigation should be based on this water-use information, but of course will be influenced by rainfall and the watering capability of the irrigation system.

If only one irrigation will be made, it should ideally go on at early peak bloom. We are moving into that stage now (50-60 days).

Water should not be applied to cotton in Randall County after August 25. It takes 60 days from the time cotton is in the square stage to form a mature boll. That puts the maturing date at about October 25, or date of frost. Any fruiting form that is put on by the cotton plant after August 25 is likely to be damaged by frost before maturing.

Regardless of the number of irrigations following a pre-plant, the first application generally should not precede the first white bloom. Excessive moisture before bloom generally encourages excessive vegetative growth rather than fruiting. Proper timing of irrigation is often more important than the total amount applied.

Grain sorghum irrigation is also important when planning the irrigation schedule on most Randall farms.

Grain sorghum uses less than one-tenth of an inch of water per day up to about the seven leaf stage, as shown on the accompanying graph, and then the use rate increases rapidly.

The peak water use of more than .3 inches per day comes between the boot and bloom stage. Most of the Randall County grain sorghum was planted by May 20 and the 50-day period which we are now in is the peak period of water consumption. The weather is dry and irrigation wells are running behind schedule. The graph also shows the most advantageous times for watering and will aid the farmer in making best use of the water supply available.

Research indicates the best grain sorghum yields are produced when available soil moisture is kept at or above 45 per cent of capacity from the pre-boot to the soft dough stage. But this watering schedule is seldom the most profitable and it results in extremely inefficient water use.

As with cotton, research indicates one irrigation on grain sorghum gives the most efficient water use with the boot stage being the approximate time to apply this one irrigation.

Two well-timed seasonal irrigations will generally give good yields and probably nearer maximum net returns on grain sorghum. These two waterings should be at the pre-boot and at the late-bloom stage.

As with cotton, research indicates one irrigation on grain sorghum gives the most efficient water use with the boot stage being the approximate time to apply this one irrigation.

Jaycees will prepare barbecued chicken for the affair which gets underway at 2 p.m. Afternoon entertainment will include various outdoor games according to Allen Parson, chairman.

This would include property on first avenue from 17th to 18th St. and on second avenue from 13th St. to 18th St.

increase coverage to apartment houses."

City Clerk John Janak, estimates an annual saving on operating costs at $3,500 based on the system now used, plus the benefit the City of Canyon will receive by having 39 additional steel trash boxes.

The forty steel trash boxes now being used with a Dempster Dumpster system were sold to the city of Friona, May 16 for $15,000, and Canyon commissioners agreed to pay one per cent of the purchase price to Friona after a two month waiting period after July 10, 1966. Existing equipment includes the boxes and a two-ton Ford truck, all purchased in 1963.

"To maintain the Dempster system would have required replacement of the truck we have, purchase of another truck, and purchase of 30-40 additional boxes, and we still would not have had a system which provided for packing garbage as it is picked up. Therefore the number of eight mile round trips to the dumpgrounds would have increased," said Janak.

"This new equipment can service up to 120 boxes per day and allows for expansion of the service needed with the population growth."

Gwyn added, "The estimated population for Canyon in 1964 was predicted to be around 6,800. We have had a 33 per cent increase and now have an estimated population of 9,296."

Hospital. . .

King stressed that residents of the hospital district must go to Northwest Texas Hospital.
"Potter County levies a tax of ten cents on the one-hundred dollar valuation on all rural property which goes into the Amarillo Hospital District fund to take care of indigent persons outside the Amarillo City limits
and living in Potter County.
Therefore, they must go to Northwest Texas Hospital to receive medical assistance, because this money goes into the Hospital District Fund. City taxes take care of city residents. The role of Potter County and the City of Amarillo was written into the enabling legislation when the hospital district was formed in 1959. At that time it was proposed that Randall County be a part of this district, but the idea was rejected by Randall County.
The report made by Judge King resulted from a visit to the monthly meeting of the Amarillo Hospital District Board.
In other business the Commissioners discussed bindweed control by the application of salt. Clarence Beckman reported that he had purchased 10,000 pounds of salt to be used in bindweed control along county right-of-way where farmers are attempting control of the weed in their fields.
The Court accepted low bid of $309.00 by the Steck Co. for four criminal docket books to be used in the offices of Justices of the Peace Bill Wilson and W.W. Hancock and authorized advertising for bids
on six sections of roller shelving for use in courthouse vaults.

Lion's Open
Carnival
On Monday

The annual summer carnival for the Canyon Lion's Club will begin Monday, July 18, on the grounds adjacent to Rex Reeves Elementary School according to James Dunn, president.
A variety of new rides and carnival games will be set up since the recent purchase of such equipment from the South
Amarillo Lions.
All residents are invited to participate in the week of evening activities which will conclude Saturday, July 23.

tried to gain control because of
the social aspects, not because
of difference in ideologies,
religious or governmental.
Newsom, who will make his
fourth trip to Vietnam in September for the South Vietnamese
elections says, "It seems probable that the military will
have to be a part of any government that is established."
In 1963 the Buddhists were
able to overthrow the Diem
regime because there was no
loyalty within the ranks of the military. Any general with a handful of backers could over-
throw the government one day
and be overthrown the next.
Now they can't crack the front
of the military."
Moving on to the topic of what
the Red Chinese are going to do, the journalist said, "It is
true that they definitely don't want to get into this war. But they could if they wanted to.
For instance, in Korea we told
them we wouldn't cross the Yalu
River. But when we moved up to the Yalu, they didn't believe
us and they crossed it."
"Historically, the Chinese
have never recognized as permanent, any loss of territory
whether it be in the time of
the Manchus, Ching Kai Shiek,
or the Reds. They speak today
of unjust treaties--even back to
the Opium Wars. On Chinese
maps the country has undetermined borders, whereas on Russian maps there are very
definite boundaries."
"I think that within China
there is trouble--a struggle
for power. But it will be years
before we see a change. In the next couple of years I feel we
will see an offer made to China
as far as U.N. membership is concerned. I also feel that they will turn it down."
"The impact of the presence
of the United States in Southeast Asia is obvious. Indonesia would never have been able to do what she is doing
without the Americans guarding
her flank. Cambodia's relationship with Communist China has
changed."

In commenting on the situation in other parts of the world, Newsom predicted that the United States would recognize the new Argentine military government, that the danger in Peru of Castro-type infiltration was over, that there would be trouble in Guatemala and Africa, that the situation in the middle East may get worse
although Israel is getting a breathing spell due to the struggle between Saudia Arabia
and the United Arab Republic.
"In Europe, the Russians have their Rumania, we have our DeGaulle. In both East and West
there is fear of a resurgent
Germany--a return of the German general staff. While DeGaulle wants the Americans out of Europe, he recognizes the need for the Americans to be there."
When questioned about Cuba,
Newsom said, "The Cubans have been badly left by the Chinese when they cut off the rice. The Russians are a little tired of Castro, but they can't afford to let him down. They would lose face in the eyes of the Communist world."
He concluded his address by

tried to gain control because of
the social aspects, not because
of difference in ideologies,
religious or governmental.
Newsom, who will make his
fourth trip to Vietnam in September for the South Vietnamese
elections says, "It seems
probable that the military will
have to be a part of any government that is established."
In 1963 the Buddhists were
able to overthrow the Diem
regime because there was no
loyalty within the ranks of the military. Any general with a
handful of backers could over-
throw the government one day
and be overthrown the next.
Now they can't crack the front
of the military."
Moving on to the topic of what
the Red Chinese are going to
do, the journalist said, "It is
true that they definitely don't want to get into this war. But
they could if they wanted to.
For instance, in Korea we told
them we wouldn't cross the Yalu
River. But when we moved up
to the Yalu, they didn't believe
us and they crossed it."
"Historically, the Chinese
have never recognized as permanent, any loss of territory
whether it be in the time of
the Manchus, Ching Kai Shiek,
or the Reds. They speak today
of unjust treaties--even back to
the Opium Wars. On Chinese
maps the country has unde-
termined borders, whereas on Russian maps there are very
definite boundaries."
"I think that within China
there is trouble--a struggle
for power. But it will be years
before we see a change. In the
next couple of years I feel we
will see an offer made to China
as far as U.N. membership is concerned. I also feel that they
will turn it down."
"The impact of the presence
of the United States in Southeast Asia is obvious. Indonesia would never have been
able to do what she is doing
without the Americans guarding
her flank. Cambodia's relationship with Communist China has
changed."

Civil Defense Meeting Is Delayed

Canyon City Manager Gary Gwyn said although no meeting
had been scheduled between city
and Randall County Commissions to discuss a proposed merger of the county's inactive
Civil Defense unit with the Potter-Amarillo Civil Defense Unit, he hoped one could be scheduled in the near future.

Gwyn who had met earlier with the county commission and Bill Butler, director of the Amarillo C.D. Unit, said initial cost would be an estimated $14,000 and $4,000 annually
thereafter to maintain the operation.

Butler had said that South
Amarillo is covered by the Amarillo Civil Defense program and would not be included in the Randall project.

The expenditure, basically a one-time investment, would include a base radio station, five radios, four bell and light systems, three or four sirens
and a supplemental salary of $200 per month for operations officers, and a $1,000 miscellaneous fund to provide gas for generators, supplies, etc. All but the miscellaneous fund
would be eligible for matching funds from the government.

Miss Michael-Kelley Wed At Baptist Church

Double ring marriage vows for Miss Ricky Lynn Michael and E. Lynn Kelley were solemnized Sunday, July 3, at the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meade Michael of Canyon and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ted T. Kelley of Canyon.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Canyon, officiated at the ceremonies which were read in the church parlor before an altar table draped with a floor length green satin cloth and centered with a bouquet of greenery interspersed with majestic daisies and green baby's breath. Entrance to the parlor was flanked on each side of the door by candelabra, wound with garlands of greenery and interspersed with majestic daisies and baby's breath.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an informal A-line linen dress with a crocheted yoke which terminated into loose trumpet sleeves. ## COOK OF THE WEEK Shares Pickling Ideas

BY LORENA MILLER

Pickle canning season has arrived for Mrs. John Whinnery of 3202 Conner Drive as she shares a recipe for Kosher Dills with our readers this week.

Mrs. Whinnery, the former Virginia Elliott of Sayre, Okla. also shares a homemade salad dressing recipe.

A native of Sayre, Mrs. Whinnery graduated from Sayre High School and then completed requirements for the bachelor's and master's degree in elementary education at West Texas State University. For the past nine years, Mrs. Whinnery has taught second grade at Lawn Dale Elementary School in Amarillo.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.N. Elliott, and a brother, William Elliott, all reside in Dumas.

"My family is my main hobby," related Mrs. Whinnery. "She spends several weeks each summer canning for winter use, and last year canned some two bushels of fresh cucumbers."

"We bought them from a hot-house out on McCormick Road," said Mrs. Whinnery, explaining that the hot-house trains the cucumbers to climb a trellis wire.

The Whinnerys have three children including a daughter, Jeanne, who is married and living in Hassel, Germany where her husband, Sgt. Jim Miller, is stationed with the Army. Son, John, Jr., 21, is with the American Embassy in London, England where he is stationed with the Army.

The Whinnery's youngest son, Jim, is a student at New Mexico Highlands University and is married to the former Margaret "Sue" Plank of Canyon. The couple has one son, Cyrus Clark.

All three of the Whinnery's children have been graduates of Canyon High School.

A native of Fort Dodge, Iowa, Mr. Whinnery attended college at Northwestern in Tallequah, Okla. and later received his master's from West Texas State University. He has been intramural director at West Texas State for the past ten years.

"John's favorite hobbies are golf, yardwork and backyard barbecuing," commented Mrs. Whinnery. "We try a little of everything on the grill. Recently we tried barbecuing fresh fish on the grill...and believe me, it was delicious and different."

Mrs. Whinnery's recipes follow:

KOSHER DILL PICKLES
1/8 tsp powdered alum
1 clove garlic
2 heads dill
1 red hot pepper
1 quart vinegar (4 cups)
1 cup salt
3 quarts water (12 cups)
Combine salt, water and vinegar and bring to boil.

Wash cucumbers and pack into jars. Fill with hot vinegar mixture and seal. Makes 6-8 quarts. Allow about three months for best flavor.

SALAD DRESSING
2 hard boiled eggs (mashed very fine)
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. chopped pimento
2 dashes of tabasco
2 tbsps. chili sauce
2 dashes garlic salt

Put all ingredients into pint jar and shake until completely mixed. If too thick add a small amount of water and blend in.

City Club Facilities Undergo $45,000 Improvements

BY LORENA MILLER
"Let's go to the club," says Chuck Allen, president of the executive board of the Canyon City Club.

The local club has been in a stage of redevelopment and improvement since the new slate of officers were elected at the January meeting. An expansion program of $45,000 has been underway at the club for the past several months.

Expansion of the club has included the building of a new swimming pool, 8 new tee boxes, the damming of a small lake, irrigation of the No. 9 fairway completely, enlarging of several greens on the golf course and general improvement to the clubground roads.

A major endeavor has been the renovations and additions being made to the present clubhouse. When completed, the new clubhouse will have a ballroom, modern pro-shop, lounges, locker rooms and shower facilities for both men and women, and a modern snackbar.

Of the $45,000 improvement project, some $1,400 has been used for general filling and leveling work on the fairways. A new practice area and greens have also been built according to Allen.

Current plans call for a completion date in early August and a general opening for the new facilities about August 10 according to Allen.

"We have built new tee boxes for the second round," explains Allen. "So the course is now equal to an eighteenhole course. We still use the same greens—but the different tee boxes give a completely different game."

Two greens have been closed for the summer undergoing enlarging and rebuilding projects but will be open again in early August according to Allen.

When the original Canyon City Club was chartered in 1906, the

Graduate Enrollment Increases

Enrollment of graduate students at West Texas State University has surpassed 1,000 for the first time in its history, according to Dr. John B. Wilson, dean of the graduate school.

A total of 1,004 graduates were enrolled for the first summer term, showing an increase of 44 per cent over the 697 registered for the first term in 1965. Gain in full-time equivalent graduate students was even greater, with 257 last year and 459 this year, showing an increase of 78 per cent.

In 1945, graduate enrollment increases, by 16 per cent over 1964, with an increase of 44 per cent in full-time equivalents, Dr. Wilson said. The full-time equivalent figure represents the number taking a full load, he said.

club's membership was limited to 100 member families. In 1957, the executive board raised the membership limit to 120 member families.

"But the town has far outgrown our limits on membership," said Allen, explaining that the executive board voted to enroll some 130 associate members at the January meeting.

"So far 70 associate memberships have been sold," stated Allen. "By our grand opening we hope to have the quota of 130 filled."

Associate memberships sell at $50 and $10 per month for use of the club area. The main difference between the associate and regular membership, explains Allen, is that the associate member is not eligible to vote in board action and does not get a building site at the club.

"This has been our first real success with associate membership drives," said Allen. When voting to sell associate memberships, the executive board also voted to close the club to greenfee players and the general public.

"We had to close to the green fee players," explained Allen. "Because our regular members could hardly get onto the course for all of the greenfee players."

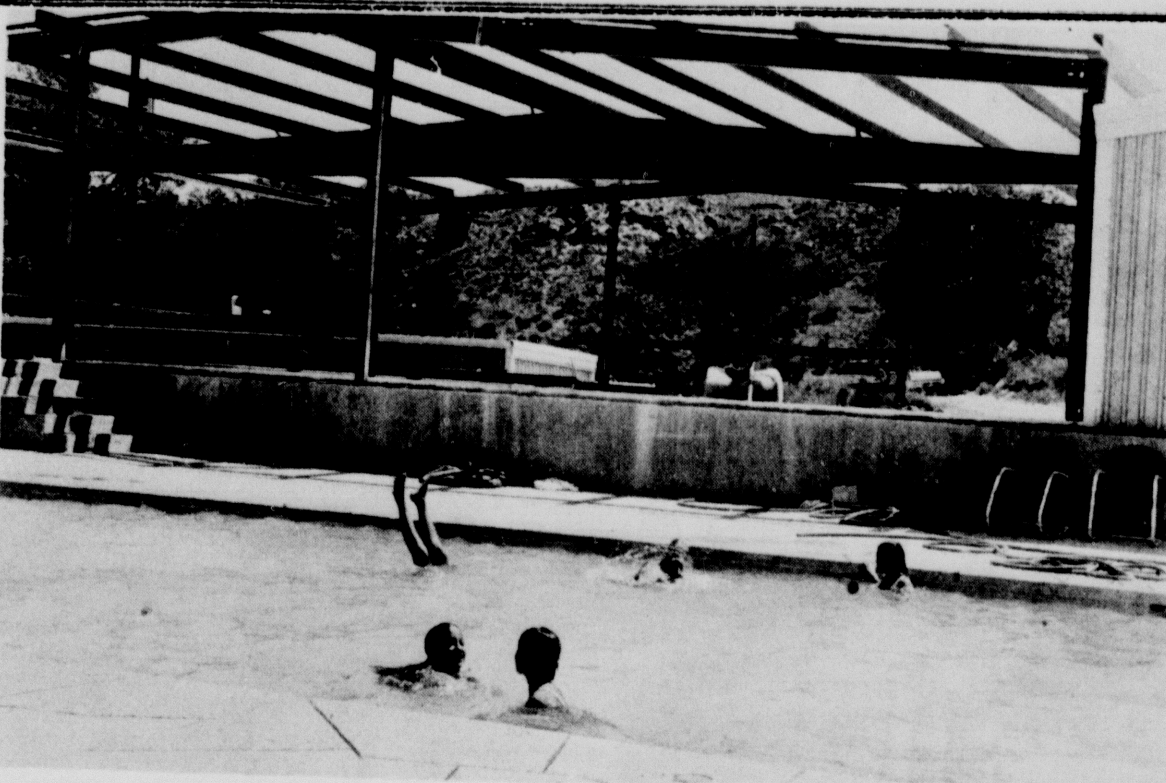

An added attraction of the associate membership is that "they are first in line to become regular members when we have one to sell out or move" according to Allen.

"We feel now that the town could support an active club of some 250 or more member families," said Allen. "We really appreciate our members for their support and cooperation during the past few months of closed greens and expansion at the club."

Each associate member is given a membership card and key to the gate immediately after his enrollment. Acceptance ends only until the executive board meets, which is once each month. The club's by-laws call for dues to be paid six months in advance during January and July.

Assisting on the board with Allen are Alfred Daniel, vice president; and Charles Hillier, secretary-treasurer.

Under discussion as future expansion projects are a tennis

First City Council Meets

(Editor's Note:) The following is a collection of historical material from the annals of public records concerning the formation and first government actions for Randall County. The collection has been compiled by Mrs. T.B. McCarter, president, of the Randall County Historical Survey Committee which is beginning a "Historical Appreciation Week" on Monday, July 18, to run through the Randall County Celebration on July 23.)

The first City Council's court met in regular session for the first time on November 8, 1906 and minutes of the original meeting read as follows:

"Be it resolved that on this 8th day of November, 1906 the first meeting of the city council of Canyon City, Texas pursuant to the call of the mayor met at the courthouse and organized for business. Each of the councilmen and the city marshalls having taken the oath of office (and the mayor having taken the sub-oath on the day previous) all of which oaths of office are in the archives of the City Records.

Officers present at the first meeting are as follows: Juefa N. Haney, Mayor; Brent C. Taylor, Marshall; T.H. Rowan, D.A. Park, J.F. Smith, G.S. Abbott and J.T. Serari, alderman."

Appointed as the first standing committees were T.H. Rowan and J.F. Smith "on public health and sanitary measures"; Joe Serari and J.F. Smith "on streets and alleys and their improvement"; J.F. Smith and T.H. Rowan "on fire limits and prevention of fires"; D.A. Park and T.H. Rowan "on how much to collect and from what source"; and G.S. Abbott and D.A. Park "on by-laws, ordinances, necessary records, public printing and stationery".

Meetings of the council were set on the first Tuesday night of each month at 7:30 p.m.

At a meeting of the city council on November 9, 1906, "W. J. Simpson was appointed to serve the city with the powers, privileges and duties of a policeman, all of which were regulated by ordinance".

Soon afterward the City Council passed an ordinance providing for arrests by the city marshal and duly appointed policeman without a warrant-- "on persons found in suspicious places under circumstances which reasonably show that such a person has been guilty of some felony or breach of the peace."

Rates of tuition for Canyon City Public Schools were charged at the rate of $1 per month with each additional grade costing 25 cents more according to the grade the student is in. The tuition was payable at the end of each scholastic month with all tuition going to supplement the school funds.

The tuition was signed by the school board, J.C. Phippen, F.P. Wilson and S.A. Shottwell on September 19, 1901.

Statewide Honor For Yearbook

The 1965-66 yearbook for Canyon Study Club was judged as first among junior clubs of the state at a recent state convention for the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Lubbock.

Arrangements for the yearbook were handled by Mrs. Dick Dawdy, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Weyman Brown, Mrs. Duane Guy and Mrs. Don Ray.

president's theme "Community Improvement From a Pioneer Heritage" lead the way for a general western theme used in the yearbook.

Judge for the district meeting was Mrs. E.R. Bell of Stratford. The state competition was judged by Mrs. Charles H. Perkes of Galveston.

"All of our programs were in keeping with a western theme," said Mrs. Charles Brasher, president of the club. The yearbook featured program titles and sections of the book which were labeled with western jargon. In keeping with the general western theme, the club sponsored a "western store" Christmas bazaar and a spring Valentine barbecue.

Of the seven individual judging departments, the club was also selected as first place in the Texas Heritage Division according to Mrs. Brasher.

CANYON STUDY CLUB'S 1965-66 yearbook recently took first place honors in their division at the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs state convention in Lubbock. The yearbook, arranged by Mrs. Dick Dawdy, chairman, was judged on general form, programs, overall content, projects, additional information and general appearance. The club also took a first in Texas Heritage division according to Mrs. Charles Brasher, left, president of the club.

HEARING, as well as reading, plays an important role in reading comprehension. Mrs. Doris Nored, instructor at a PESO-sponsored reading laboratory, prepares tape recording equipment for her students.

PESO Students Learn Reading Can Be Fun

BY WAYNE BOARD
"When are we going to start reading?"

This was a question asked Mrs. Doris Nored daily by at least one of the students in her PESO-sponsored elementary reading laboratory at Canyon High School.

PESO—Panhandle Educational Services Organization—is an agency of West Texas State University created to serve the 84 member school districts and others that may elect to become members.

Mrs. Nored, an educational consultant for Sound-Photo Company of Lubbock, conducted a reading laboratory for 24 boys and girls in grades two through six. They were grouped by grade level, and each class met for one hour daily. One group consisted of second grade students only, another is third and fourth grade students and the other is for those fifth and sixth graders.

She said the youngsters reading before the classes had not been successful, but that this did not mean they were "slow." "Our purpose in this six weeks was to motivate an interest in reading through the use of multi-media techniques. An ever changing variety of approaches is appealing to the unsuccessful reader," she stated.

Of course, she said, the youngsters think they are not reading, although every facet of the program is directed toward the improvement of reading in one way or another. Each morning the members of the class would assemble in one of the CHS air conditioned rooms and observe a chart that scheduled their activities by color. By following the day of the week and their own color, the children were able to participate in various types of reading activities each week.

To build perception accuracy through flashing of non-verbal material, the youngsters used the "tachistoscope" each morning. Through the use of the "multi-media" Mrs. Nored said, "the multi-media used will produce some startling effects on the student's reading habits and desires; that vocabulary and comprehension will be increased, and that daily training with the Tach-X will improve the functional factors involved in reading."

Also used in the laboratory was a Controlled Reader that used a form of motion picture projector and large screen.

"This builds directional attack," Mrs. Nored said. As the child views the screen, separate words in a sentence are focused to direct their attention on only one word at a time.

Mrs. Nored said the words could be projected singularly or up to 1,000 words per minute for high school students. She said, however, that if the maximum speed was used comprehension was reduced to about fifty per cent.

All work is directed at two levels in the program she said so they would be using words familiar to them, as the primary purpose of the laboratory is not so much to increase knowledge but to "redevelop" reading skills.

If the student wishes to work individually with the reader, a "little control reader" is available with a 24 inch projection.

As many students tend to "tune out" the teacher, Mrs. Nored uses a variety of listening activities including the use of records and tapes.

"Sometimes we read for pleasure," she said, "and sometimes for skill, but whatever we use is to make the student listen."

Many companies throughout the United States have supplied filmstrips to be used by the students. According to Mrs. Nored they are always educational and are used for a purpose. Besides the large projector, two filmstrip pre-viewers are available for individual use.

While she sits at a typewriter the students look at a picture, formulate a story and dictate their efforts to her. The typed page is then placed on an enlarged screen where the youngsters can see the finished product. She said they read the results very carefully and often noticed mistakes in grammar and sentence structure. This process not only motivates the student to create but also to formulate and see the actual results of their labors.

She said one boy in the class felt important because he would cut out and draw pictures for the cover of the story and one had indicated to her he wanted to become an author.

Another phase of the program utilizes a book with a picture and a related question. The student selects one of two answers given and circles it with a red pencil. He may then check his answer for accuracy at the left of the page. Mrs. Nored said many would erase an incorrect answer and replace it with the answer at the left. She said the books were for various levels and after completing one side could be turned over where more difficult questions were printed.

Also used are word games and linguistic blocks. The "1x1" plastic blocks have nouns, verbs, adverbs and other parts of speech printed on each side of the die. By arranging the dice the student can form a sentence.

"We don't try to explain sentence structure to them, but by doing the individual work, they can better comprehend how words form what we try to project to a listener," she stated.

At the beginning of the laboratory courses, Jim Williamson, representing Sound-Photo in Amarillo, came to Canyon and photographed the eyes of the youngsters as they read.

This was done to check the number of fixations and regressions their eyes made in the reading process. If the eyes stopped for a long period of time or if they went back or skipped words or sentences, it would be indicated on the graph. Mrs. Nored said she would like to rephotograph the same student's eyes after the course to determine how effective the training had been.

The equipment in what Mrs. Nored termed "an ideal learning center" will go back to Lubbock to Sound-Photo, but some of it will be purchased by Canyon Public Schools to be used in PESO reading rooms this fall.

Mrs. Nored stated she felt that definite improvement had been shown in the reading habits of her students during the past six weeks, but that her work was only the beginning of more improvement to come.

PESO provides five central services for its 84 members. They are program development and supervision; fiscal processing services; staff development services; diagnostic services; and evaluation services.

Dr. Emmitt Smith is director for PESO; Dr. Kenneth Laycock, assistant director; and Dr. Kenneth Waugh, coordinator of diagnostic and evaluation services.

The students who receive the reading instructions are selected by their school teachers and principals by testing individual evaluation, said Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools.

MOTION PICTURE PROJECTORS were also used by Mrs. Nored in the Panhandle Educational Services Organization's reading classes that concluded yesterday at Canyon High School. The three classes met for an hour each day to receive the special instruction.
